

Jamie DeMent, MNS
jdement@kdheks.gov

Jamie DeMent serves as the lead foodborne epidemiologist for the Kansas Department of Health & Environment – Bureau of Epidemiology and Public Health Informatics. She provides support for the waterborne, zoonotic and vectorborne surveillance programs. Ms. DeMent received her Master's of Natural Science from Southeast Missouri State University with a concentration in epidemiology and environmental health in 2006.